—Three negroes, George Wilson, Charles Davis and Mathilds Jones were executed yesterday at Plague Mine, Louisians, for the murder and robbery of Mrs. Harriet yesterday at Plague Mine, Louisiana, for the murder and robbery of Mrs. Harriet Cole last January. The principal witness against the prisoners was a little colored girl, the servant of Mrs. Cole at the time of the murder. She heard the murderers conspire to rob her mistress and gave them the information about Mrs. Cole's money and jewelry and saw them with the jewelry in their possession after the murder. The conspirators entered Mrs. Cole's dwelling, strangled her to death and robbed the house of the money, diamonds and other valuables. The prisoners did not sleep at all. Mathilda Jones said in the morning she was ready to die and thought she would go to heaven. She appeared quite cheerful and did not allade to the crime. On the scaffold she was extremely nervous, and after saying "Goodbye to all," and while shouting and singing she gave way completely and fell from the scaffold just as the black cap was drawn over her face. When the woman fainted she fell against Davis and then fell off the gallows. Davis lost his balance and caught hold of the ropes to the right, which held the trap and was in that position when the trap fell at 12:45, Wilson standing cooly all the time. # No Masonic Temple Allowed in LIMA, August 1.-A letter from General Mas regarding his action while in command of the expedition to the central provinces is published. He praises the loyalty of the troops to the Government, but acknowledges being harassed by intrigues of persons boasting to be friends of the Government. He says the revolution would have been crushed had he been allowed to engage the enemy had he been allowed to engage the enemy after the fight at Izeuchea, but when at length his commission was obtained the rebels had so profited by the delay as to render attack unadvisable. The Bishop of Lima has sent an address to Monsignor Tovar, Minister of Justice, protesting against the proposed Masonic hall to be erected in Lima. The Minister has replied in strong terms, deprecating the publicity given to this protest by the Bishop, but assuring him that in virtue of the Constitution the Government has not permitted, and never Government has not permitted, and never will permit, the erection of a Masonic temple in Lime.

Imposing Ceremony in Cleveland. CLEVELAND, August 1 .- At Fremont, Ohio, to-day, the Soldiers' monument, erected by the people of Sandusky county, was unveiled with imposing ceremonies. The shaft stands with imposing ceremonies. The shaft stands in Stephenson Park, on the site of Fort Stephenson, where, on August 2d, 1813, Major George Creghan, with 100 men, defeated 1,200 British and Indians under Proctor and Tecumseh. There is a great crowd of people in town, and ex-President Hayes is president of the day. At 10 o'clock the procession, composed of militia and civic societies from various sections of the State, paraded the streets, and at 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon the exercises began. Major-General J. D. Cox was orator of the day. Addresses were also made by ex-President Hayes, General R. B. Buckland, Captain J. M. Lemmon and others. Captain Andrew C. Dilke's Scandal Believed to be Settled. London, August 1.-It is expected that the Land Purchase bill will be shelved. Sir Charles Dilke will reappear in the House of Commons Monday, and it is be-lieved that the scandal will be settled.

From an article on Hotel-Keeping, by George Iles, in the August Century, we quote the following: "When I have seen the lengthy bill of fare so commonly furnished at large American hotels and thought of the waste entailed, I have often believed that a reformer might succeed, by establishing, say in New York, a hotel on a new plan, one that would wish that would afford the small, good variety that one finds at the smaller London hotels of the best class—a variety well cooked and served, through the cooks' attention not be-ing disagrated among a multitude of dishes. ing dissipated among a multitude of dishes At two restaurants in New York, on Broad ing dissipated among a multitude of dishes. At two restaurants in New York, on Broadway and Fifth Avenue respectively, one gets an excellent table d'hote dinner of this kind at the reasonable charge of one dollar and twenty-five cents, which includes a pint of ria ordinaire. The best hotels, it gives me pleasure to state, are fast moving in the direction of simplicity of bill of fare. In New York the leading house on the American plan does not provide its table with much more than one-half the variety of dishes one may have offered at second-rate, pretentions concerns throughout the country. The dietary, too, in America is unquestionably improving. Fruit and vegetables are consumed much more plentifully than before quick trains transported them cheaply and canning became a prodigious business. Baked joints and fowl, so often parboiled and sodden, are giving place to better things in the way of genuine rousts. The gridiron, thank goodness, has well-nigh driven the frying-pan out of the kitchen, and wholesome broiled steaks and chops have taken the place of the hard, greasy meats that spoiled so many digestions in the past.
